PARTIES

4. Plaintiffs, Emanuel R. Weimar and Christine M. Weimar, 58 Iron Hill Road, New Britain, Bucks County, Pennsylvania, 18901, are “consumers” as defined by 15 U.S.C. § 1692a(3).

5. Defendant, Carrington Mortgage Services, LLC (“Carrington”) is a limited liability company, with offices located at 1600 South Douglass Road, Suites 110 & 200-A, Anaheim, California, 92805 and is a “debt collector” as defined by 15 U.S.C. § 1692a(6).

FACTS

6. Carrington regularly attempts to collect consumer debts of behalf of third parties.

7. At all times mentioned herein, Carrington acted itself and/or through its officers, directors, managers, agents, servants, contractors, attorneys, representatives and/or employees.

8. The alleged debt was made primarily for family, personal or household purposes with the meaning of 15 U.S.C. § 1692a(5).

9. Specifically, the debt allegedly owed by Plaintiffs was in connection with a purported loan made for the purchase of a house, which alleged debt has been the subject of an ejectment action by Deutsche Bank National Trust in the Bucks County Court of Common Pleas, Docket No. 2014-3203.

10. The Common Pleas Court dismissed the case on the basis that Deutsche’s remedy lie in “foreclosure” not “ejectment”. A copy of the opinion is attached as Exhibit A.

11. Deutsche then appealed the matter to the Superior Court of Pennsylvania, Docket No. 2596 EDA 2015, however, subsequently and without explanation, withdrew the appeal on or about February 29, 2016 prior to briefs being filed. See Exhibit B.

12. Plaintiffs incorporate the public dockets and filings in the above cases herein by reference.

13. Subsequently, on September 1, 2016, Carrington acquired the servicing rights of the alleged loan debt from Bank of America, N.A.; said date being after the alleged debt was purportedly in default, thereby making the FDCPA applicable in this matter. Pollice v. National Tax Funding, L.P., 225 F.3d 379, 403-4 (3d Cir. 2000).

14. Defendant attempted to collect the alleged debt from Plaintiffs and, in doing so, engaged in “communications” within the meaning of 15 U.S.C. § 1692(2).

COUNT ONE
Violations of the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (“FDCPA”)
15 U.S.C. § 1692, et seq.

15. In connection with the collection of the debt, Carrington mailed to Plaintiffs a billing statement dated September 19, 2016 which listed, among others, the following charges on the following dates in 2016:

a)	09/10 FCL [foreclosure] LEGAL FEES Billed -	$916.00
b)	09/10 FCL TITLE SERVICES Billed -	575.00
c)	09/10 FCL RECORDING FEE Billed -	74.25
d)	09/10 PROP PRES-Utilities Billed	3,987.51
e)	09/10 ATTORNEY FEE Billed	612.25
f)	POST AND PUBLICATION FEE Billed	19.23

See Exhibit C.

16. The notation PROP PRES-Utilities Billed is undefined and confusing and appears and, further, appears to be unwarranted in that Plaintiffs pay their own utilities.

17. The notation FCL RECORDING FEE Billed is undefined and confusing, and appears to be unwarranted in that there was no “recording” of anything.

18. If said charges represent billing for the aforesaid legal proceedings, they are impermissible and confusing because no “foreclosure” proceeding was brought – only an “ejectment” proceeding in which Plaintiffs prevailed at the trial level. Further, any charges for attorneys fees are impermissible because Deutsche did not bring a permissible lawsuit, and, further because Deutsche voluntarily discontinued the appeal after losing at the trial level.

19. The legal/attorney fee charges are not due and owing in that Carrington is trying to assess attorney’s fees against Plaintiff for legal services that were not authorized or were otherwise improper or impermissible.

20. Further, if the legal/attorney fees are representative of legal services performed after the withdrawal of the aforesaid appeal (as may be the case given that the dates are in September 2016), then said charges are illegal pursuant to Act 6, 41 P.S. § 406(3), which caps attorney’s fees at $50.00 prior to the commencement of foreclosure proceedings.

21. The POST AND PUBLICATION FEE billed in the amount of $19.23 is not due and owing since there was nothing posted or publicized, or, in the event the charge represents something else, it is confusing and undefined.

22. Further, upon Plaintiffs request, Carrington sent Plaintiffs a payoff statement, dated October 28, 2016, which provides further confusion with respect to the amount of the purported debt; particularly in view of the following facts:

a) a recording fee of $66.00 is listed, but there was nothing recorded;

- b) assuming, however, anything was recorded, the said $66.00 recording fee contradicts that $74.25 recording fee on the billing statement of September 19, 2016;
- c) the payoff statement provides no itemization with respect to what is generally termed as “Other Unpaid Expenses” in the amount of $6,184.24;
- d) the amount of interest claimed due in the amount of $46,744.77 is without justification or explanation.
- e) adding further confusion is the handwritten statement on Carrington’s payoff statement stating, “We will mail the rest of the papers.” Plaintiffs are unaware of what this means, and, as of the date of this filing, Plaintiffs have received no additional papers from Carrington.

See Exhibit D.

23. The foregoing conduct by Carrington constitutes violations of at least the following sections of the FDCPA:

- a) § 1692e by using any other false, deceptive, or misleading representation or means in connection with the debt collection;
- b) § 1692e(2) by misrepresenting the character, amount or legal status of the alleged debt;
- c) § 1692e(10) by using false representation or deceptive means to collect a debt;
- d) § 1692f by using an unfair or unconscionable means to collect or attempt to collect the alleged debt;

- e) § 1692f(1) by attempting to collect an amount not authorized by an agreement creating the purported debt or permitted by law.
- f) § 1692d by engaging in conduct the natural consequence of which is to harass, oppress, or abuse a person;

24. As a direct result of Carrington's aforesaid violative conduct, Plaintiff suffered actual damages including but not limited emotional distress, mental anguish, loss of sleep, worry and anxiety.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs demand judgment against Carrington for,

- a) actual damages pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1692k(a)(1);
- b) statutory damages in the amount of $1,000.00 per Plaintiff pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1692k(a)(2)(A);
- c) costs of suit and reasonable attorney's fees pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1692k(a)(3);
- d) such other relief as the Court deems just and proper

COUNT TWO
DECLARATORY JUDGMENT TO DECLARE CERTAIN CHARGES ILLEGAL AND TO PROVIDE AN ACCURATE PAYOFF STATEMENT PURSUANT TO THE TRUTH IN LENDING ACT, 15 U.S.C. § 1639(g)

24. Plaintiffs incorporate the foregoing paragraphs by reference.

25. Plaintiffs are entitled to a Declaratory Judgment under 28 U.S.C. § 2201, declaring the Defendant's aforesaid charges are illegal and are to cease.

26. Pursuant to the Truth in Lending Act, specifically 15 U.S.C. § 1639(g), Plaintiffs are also entitled to receive an itemized payoff statement which is accurate.

27. For the reasons set forth above, the payoff statement is neither accurate, nor itemized.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs request the Court enter an order declaring Defendant's foregoing charges are illegal and Plaintiffs are not liable for same. Plaintiffs also request the court order Carrington to provided an itemized and accurate payoff statement as they are required to do under the Truth in Lending Act.

JURY DEMAND

Plaintiffs hereby demand trial by jury on all triable claims.

OPINION

Deutsche Bank National Trust Company (hereinafter “Appellant”) appeals to the Superior Court from this Court’s July 8, 2015, Order sustaining Emanuel R. Weimar and Christine M. Weimar’s (hereinafter “Appellees”) Preliminary Objections to Appellant’s First Amended Complaint. We file this Opinion pursuant to Pennsylvania Rule of Appellate Procedure 1925(a).

I. FACTUAL AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

In December of 1997, Appellees entered into an Installment Contract (hereinafter “Contract”) with the United States Office of Veterans Affairs (hereinafter “VA”) for the purchase of a parcel of real estate. (Plaintiff’s First Amended Complaint in Ejectment, ¶ 4). Specifically, the real estate is a single family residence located at 58 Iron Hill Road, New Britain, PA 18901. (Plaintiff’s First Amended Complaint in Ejectment, ¶ 4). The Contract provided for a sales price of $148,357.00 payable in monthly installments through January 2028, with an interest rate of 7.25% per annum. The ultimate goal of the Contract was for Appellees to purchase the property, therefore transferring title to them after the completion of all payments. (Plaintiff's Complaint Exhibit B).

The VA subsequently transferred its rights under the Contract to Appellant. (Plaintiff's First Amended Complaint, ¶ 5). The property was then sold to Appellant through a sale and deed agreement between the VA and Appellant, which was confirmed by a Quiet Title action and Order entered on April 29, 2012, in Bucks County Docket No. 2012-07272. (Plaintiff's First Amended Complaint, ¶ 7). This action was recorded with the Recorder of Deeds in and for Bucks County on February 3, 2014, as instrument No. 2014005747. (Plaintiff's First Amended Complaint, ¶ 7). The Order reflects that the transfer of title from the VA to Appellant became effective June 25, 1998. (Plaintiff's First Amended Complaint ¶ 8). Therefore, title to the premises is held solely by Appellant. (Plaintiff's First Amended Complaint ¶ 9).

Appellees stopped making monthly payments from June 1, 2011, up until the time this action was filed. (Plaintiff's First Amended Complaint, ¶ 10). Neither party disputes Appellees are in default of the Contract, but disagree as to whether the Contract constitutes an installment contract for the sale of real estate or a mortgage. The type of Contract present is determinative of Appellant's remedy. Appellant filed a Complaint in Ejectment against Appellees on May 6, 2014. (Defendant's Preliminary Objections to Plaintiff's First Amended Complaint, ¶ 1).

II. STATEMENT OF MATTERS COMPLAINED OF ON APPEAL

On September 30, 2015, Appellant filed his Statement of Matters Complained of on Appeal, raising the following issues, verbatim:

1. Whether the trial court erred in sustaining Defendant's preliminary objections on the grounds that Plaintiff's complaint was legally insufficient or failed to state a claim upon which relief could be granted?

2. Whether the trial court erred in sustaining Defendant's preliminary objections on the grounds that a suit for breach of installment contract for the purchase of real estate should be a mortgage foreclosure action, not an ejectment action?
3. Whether the trial court erred in sustaining Defendant's preliminary objections on the grounds that Plaintiff had not sent Act Notices to Defendant as required by Pennsylvania law?
4. Whether the trial court erred in sustaining Defendant's preliminary objections on the grounds that Plaintiff's mailing of Act Notices necessitates it to file an action in mortgage foreclosure?
5. Whether the trial court erred in sustaining Defendant's preliminary objections as filing a breach of installment contract for purchase of real estate as a mortgage foreclosure would be a mischaracterization of the debt and construed as a violation of local, state and/or federal debt collection laws?
6. Whether the trial court erred in sustaining Defendant's preliminary objections on the grounds that the installment contract for purchase of real estate was originated by the Office of Veterans Affairs thereby falling under the ejectment exemption found in 68 P.S. § 903(c)?
7. Whether the trial court erred in sustaining Defendant's preliminary objections on the grounds that Plaintiff's complaint was improperly verified?

III. DISCUSSION

Appellant raises seven challenges in this appeal, several of which concern the same issues. First, Appellant claims that its Complaint is legally sufficient because the proper remedy for default in this matter is an action in ejectment. This case turns on whether the instant transaction qualifies as an installment contract or a "residential mortgage," and therefore, we will focus our discussion on this distinction. The Loan Interest and Protection Law (hereinafter "Act 6") governs pre-foreclosure requirements in Pennsylvania, and has numerous functions. 41 P.S. §101 (2015); Beckett v. Laux, 577 A.2d 1341, 1342 (Pa. Super. Ct. 1990). Relevant among those functions is that it offers homeowners with "residential mortgages" protection from "overly zealous residential mortgage lenders" by prescribing procedural requirements for mortgage foreclosure actions. Id.

Appellant incorrectly asserts that the Contract here does not qualify for the protections afforded under Act 6. Therefore, our initial task is to determine whether the Contract is within the range of transactions Act 6 contemplated in its use of the term “residential mortgage.” Notably, the protections of Act 6 have been held to apply to real property purchased under a land installment contract, such as the Contract in this case.¹ Section 101 of Act 6 defines “residential mortgage” as:

[A]n obligation to pay a sum of money in an original bona fide principal amount of the base figure or less,² evidenced by a security document and secured by a lien upon real property located within this Commonwealth containing two or fewer residential units or on which two or fewer residential units are to be constructed and shall include such an obligation on a residential condominium unit.

41 P.S. § 101(f). Therefore, for a transaction to qualify as a residential mortgage, four elements must unite: “(1) an obligation to pay an original bona fide principal amount of $[237,474] or less, (2) evidenced by a ‘security document,’ (3) secured by a lien upon real property in Pennsylvania, and (4) containing two or fewer residential units on or which two or fewer residential units are constructed.” Anderson Contracting Co., 417 A.2d at 1229. Here, the parties do not dispute that the original obligation was $148,357 and that the property contains only one residential unit. Therefore only elements two and three warrant further discussion.

To meet the second element, the transaction must be evidenced by a “security document.” A security document is defined as “a mortgage, deed of trust, real estate sales contract, or other document creating upon recordation a lien upon real estate.” Beckett v. Laux, 577 A.2d 1341, 1344 (Pa. Super. Ct. 1990) (citing 41 P.S. § 101). Section 601 of Act 6 permits the Secretary of ¹ For example, the Pennsylvania Superior Court has held that, “the rights and remedies provided by Act No. 6, in particular, the cure provisions of Section 404 of the Act, 41 P.S. § 404, should not be denied to a class of Pennsylvania home purchasers solely because their obligation to pay the balance of the purchase price is evidenced and secured by some other transaction also designed to create a security interest in real estate. Substance must prevail over form.” Anderson Contracting Co. v. Daugherty, 417 A.2d 1227, 1232 (Pa. Super. Ct. 1979).

² The base figure was originally set at $50,000; however, it has since been raised to $237,474, effective January 1, 2014. See 43 Pa. Bulletin 6807 (Nov. 16, 2013).

Banking to prescribe regulations to carry out its purposes. Id. (citing 41 P.S. § 601). Pursuant to this authority, the Department of Banking has ruled that the term “security document” shall include:

- (i) An installment land contract, land contract, or lease purchase agreement. It shall also include any similar document if it is a lease of real property where the lessee pays or agrees to pay as compensation for use a sum substantially equivalent to or in excess of the aggregate value of the real property involved and it is agreed that the lessee will become, or for no other (or a nominal) consideration has the option to become, the owner of the real property upon full compliance with the terms of the agreement.

10 Pa. Code § 7.2. Since the Contract here is an installment contract for the sale of real estate where Appellees become owners upon completion of all payments, this Court was correct in determining that it falls within the Department of Banking’s definition of a security document.

Finally, the transaction must be secured by a lien. It is important to note that the Regulations promulgated by the Department of Banking support an expansive construction of the term “lien,” and infer that the term includes an interest in real property. Anderson Contracting Co., 417 A.2d at 1231. The Superior Court has held that a lien may be viewed as a party’s right to proceed against a certain piece of property to enforce an obligation. Id. The Superior Court has also specifically held that for the purposes of Act 6, retention of title by the vendor is the same as reserving a lien or mortgage.³ Id. Here, Appellant retained title to the property as demonstrated by the Quiet Title action on April 29, 2012, which was subsequently recorded with the Recorder of Deeds in and for Bucks County. The record indicates title to the property is vested in Appellant, and as a result, Appellant has the right to proceed against Appellees' default. Therefore, when Appellant's title was recorded, it created a lien upon real estate.

³ The Superior Court explained this point in Anderson Contracting Co., stating that, “Under the typical installment land contract . . . the vendee takes possession and makes periodic installment payments until the balance of the contract price is paid. Legal title to the property is, however, retained by the vendor until the terms of the contract are satisfied. Retention of title by the vendor serves as security for the vendee’s performance of the contract. In essence, then, a vendor who retains title has an interest which, although strictly speaking is not a lien, may be enforced as though it were. There can be no sensible distinction between the case of a legal title conveyed to secure the payment of a debt and a legal title retained to secure such payment. Conceptually, therefore, the retention of the title by the vendor is the same as reserving a lien or mortgage. Realistically, vendor-vendee should be viewed as mortgagee-mortgagor. To conceive of the relationship in different terms is to pay homage to form over substance. . . . In short, we hold that for the purposes of Act No. 6 a vendor under a land installment contract will be deemed to be secured by a lien upon real property” 417 A.2d at 1231 (internal citations omitted).

In light of our above discussion, it is clear that Act 6 intended to protect, as a residential mortgage, the Installment Contract between Appellees and Appellant. Although titled an "Installment Contract," the Superior Court has held that substance must prevail over form. See Anderson Contracting Co., 417 A.2d at 1232. Appellees are therefore afforded protections as residential mortgage holders, and Appellant may proceed only by commencing an action in mortgage foreclosure pursuant to Pa.R.C.P. No. 1141.

Appellant's next two challenges concern the Act Notices Appellee received regarding the potential mortgage foreclosure. It is significant to note that Appellees raise the issue of the Act Notices only as additional support to their assertion that the Contract meets the four requirements of a residential mortgage under Act 6, because Appellant specifically refers to the Contract as a "mortgage" in the Notices.⁴ However, this factual finding did not form a basis for this Court's decision to sustain the Preliminary Objections, and is not an appropriate ground for appeal.

In addition, Appellant claims that mischaracterization of the debt can be construed as a violation of local, state, and/or federal debt collection laws because this is a land installment contract, not a mortgage. See Memorandum of Law in Support of Plaintiff's Answer in Opposition to Defendant's Preliminary Objections, p.3. However, because this Court properly determined that this transaction qualifies as a residential mortgage, and not an installment contract, there is no error in this respect.

Similarly, Appellant's reliance on 68 P.S. 905(d) is improper because 68 P.S. § 903(c) provides that: "This act shall not apply to installment land contracts entered into in which the administrator of Veterans Affairs, an officer of the United States, is the seller." Appellant maintains that because it now holds the rights of the "Seller" under the Contract, the exception in 68 P.S. § 903(c) does not apply, as Appellant is not an officer of the United States. However, Appellant's argument is a nullity because Appellant is not granted any greater rights than those possessed by the assignor of the Contract—in this instance, the VA. See Employers Ins. Of Wausau v. Com., Dept. of Transp., 865 A.2d 825, 830 (Pa. 2005) ("Under the law of assignment, the assignee succeeds to no greater rights than those possessed by the assignor). Therefore, Appellant only possesses those rights that were granted to the assignor under the Contract, which includes the limitation under subsection (c).

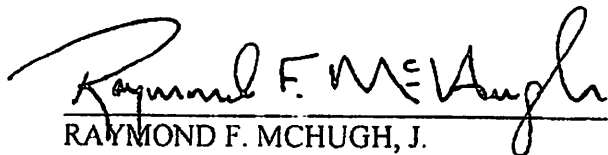

Finally, Appellant asserts that the verification for its First Amended Complaint is valid. However, this Court dismissed Appellant's First Amended Complaint on the basis of its legal insufficiency, which in turn, deems this issue moot.

IV. CONCLUSION

For these reasons, it is respectfully submitted that the Order entered by this Court on July 8, 2015, should be affirmed.
